

J. Jason Lundy, PhD

Dr. J. Jason Lundy is the Director of the Electronic Patient-Reported Outcome (ePRO) Consortium and the Associate Director of the Patient-Reported Outcome (PRO) Consortium. Dr. Lundy is responsible for the overall management of the ePRO Consortium, and provides scientific input/expertise to the PRO Consortium's industry working groups during all stages of the PRO instrument development process. After receiving his BS in Economics from Capital University, Dr. Lundy earned an MS in Pharmacy and Health Care Administration from the University of Toledo and a PhD in Pharmaceutical Economics, Policy, and Outcomes Research from the University of Arizona.